One classroom license

- This file is for one classroom: one teacher, one group of students.
- Please do not share it, post it online, or sell it.
- Extra licenses for a team or a school are available on the product page.

This is a fillable PDF

- Open it in a PDF reader (Adobe Acrobat Reader, Preview, or your browser), click into a name, a box or a line, type, and Save As.
- Every name, date, box and line on the record, clues and own-card pages is a type-in field. You can also print a page and write by hand.
- It works offline. No account, no subscription, no internet connection needed after you download it.

Student names stay private

The record pages can hold your students' names. Keep the file and any printouts with your own records, and follow your school's rules for who may see them. The students in the examples are invented.

A note on how to use these pages

These cards are for a feelings guessing game. They do not score, test or label any child, and a guess is only what a friend says. Your school's own rules and your own judgment come first.

How to Play Emotional Charades

Five steps, four ways to play and four tips.

Five steps

1. Print the easy deck (page 6) and cut apart the 8 cards. Put them face down in a pile.
2. The first actor picks the top card and looks at it. Nobody else looks.
3. The actor shows the feeling with face and body. No words and no sounds.
4. Friends guess. When someone says the right word, show the card to everyone.
5. Write each round on the record sheet (page 12). Switch actors and play again.

Four ways to play

- Small group: one actor, the rest guess.
- Two teams: teams take turns to act and guess.
- Partners: act for a friend, then switch.
- Whole class: one actor at the front.

Tips

- When the easy deck feels easy, add the harder deck (page 7).
- A guess that is close is worth talking about. Ask what the actor's face did.
- Out of cards? Students make their own on page 10.
- Print the black-and-white cards and let students color them first.

Teacher Note

For the adult. Students do not need this page.

Three steps

1. Start with the easy deck (page 6). Show the faces poster (page 11) first if students need the words.
2. Play a few rounds, then write them on the record sheet (page 12).
3. Add the harder deck (page 7) when the easy deck feels easy.

What the cards are

Each card pairs one feeling word with a picture of a child showing it. A face and body can show a feeling in different ways, so two guesses can both fit. The cards do not label a child and do not tell you what a feeling means for any one student.

Our group's own rule for turns and for stopping a game (write it here)
