

Fire Drill Routine Sequence Cards

SECTION 1 · SEQUENCE STRIP AND COLOR CARDS

FIRE DRILL ROUTINE

STRIP Sequence Strip (Color)

The routine, in order, at a glance. This is the color set; the same strip in the ink-saver set is on page 11. The numbered cut-apart cards are on the pages that follow.

WHY A STRIP, NOT A BOARD

A board holds a picture that changes; a routine like this does not change from one drill to the next, so the whole point is to show the fixed order at a glance. The number is printed on every card too, so cutting the strip apart never loses the order.

PRINTING AND SIZING

The strip above is a quick reference; the same steps print as full 2-inch cut-apart cards on the pages that follow, at the same size so a spare from the blank-card page (page 8) always matches.

HOW THE STRIP AND THE CARDS WORK TOGETHER

The strip above is one page, always in order, for a quick check. The numbered cut-apart cards (page 7) are the same 5 pictures, sized to hand over one at a time or hold on a ring — use either, or both, for the same routine.

READING "WALK OUTSIDE"

The tree stands for arriving at the outdoor assembly point, not for quiet itself — printing the step's whole name onto a card this size also does not fit on one line. "Quietly" stays part of the instruction on the how-to page and the phrase bank; the printed word here names what the picture actually shows.

THE ROUTINE, STEP BY STEP

STEP #	FIRE DRILL ROUTINE	WHAT IT SHOWS
1	Alarm sounds	A rotating warning light — the signal that starts the routine.
2	Line up	Two students standing one behind the other, waiting in a row.
3	Walk outside	Trees, standing for the outdoor assembly point. The picture shows the destination; this step is walked quietly, an instruction the picture itself cannot show.
4	Stand and wait	A clock face — standing for waiting once the class is outside.
5	Walk back inside	A door — the building entrance, once the routine is finished.

Print on cardstock, cut on the dashed lines, velcro on the back. The same 5 in the ink-saver set are on page 10. The whole strip is on page 6.

WHAT IT SHOWS

- A rotating warning light — the signal that starts the routine.
- Two students standing one behind the other, waiting in a row.
- Trees, standing for the outdoor assembly point. The picture shows the destination; this step is walked quietly, an instruction the picture itself cannot show.
- A clock face — standing for waiting once the class is outside.
- A door — the building entrance, once the routine is finished.

IF A PICTURE READS DIFFERENTLY TO YOUR STUDENT

Use a blank card (page 8) instead; type or write the word your student uses, and draw or glue on a picture that names it for them. The numbered strip (page 6) still shows where the replacement card belongs in the order.

What Is Inside, and Where

One fire drill routine, in color and ink-saver, plus the log, roll-up, family and hand-off pages that turn it into data.

HOW THE TAGS ON EACH PAGE WORK

Every page carries a small tag in its top corner, the same word used above: Strip the whole sequence in reading order, Cards a sheet of cut-apart numbered pictures, Log the data sheet, Tracker the weekly roll-up, Example the filled-in sample, Notes a page meant to be sent out or handed off, and Reference everything else you read rather than fill in.

☆ START HERE

Start Here — Three Steps

1

Print and cut

Print the strip (page 6) and the numbered cards (page 7) from the color set on cardstock, or the ink-saver set (pages 10–11) on plain paper. Laminate, cut on the dashed lines, velcro or ring as needed.

Blank cards for a step the set does not cover are on page 8: type the word, print, cut.

2

Post it, follow the numbers

Post the strip in the classroom, or hand the cards over one at a time in numbered order, or keep them on a ring the student carries. Say the printed word as each step happens (page 19).

The how-to page (13) has the rest: what to do if a step is skipped, and how a real drill and a practice walk-through are logged the same way.

3

Log it, roll it up, send it home

One row on the log (page 14) each time the routine runs, real or practiced: one letter per step — independently, with a prompt, or not completed.

Total the week on the roll-up (page 15) and dot the graph. Send the family page (page 17) home when the strip is new; the hand-off page (page 18) goes with the cards to any other adult.

WHAT THIS FILE IS

A fillable PDF: 5 numbered, cut-apart sequence cards for a general fire drill routine — the alarm, lining up, walking outside, waiting, and walking back in — plus a strip view, in two art sets, with type-in fields on the log, the roll-up, the family page, the hand-off page and the blank cards. It works offline with no account or subscription and prints the same on every machine.

WHAT THIS FILE IS NOT

It is not an editable online slideshow or word-processor document, and it is not a fire safety or evacuation procedure or a behavior plan. It states no evacuation route, meeting-point location, timing rule or required drill count, and it supplies no prompt hierarchy, fading schedule or mastery rule; it shows a student the order of one routine and counts what happened.

WHICH PAGE, WHEN

YOUR SITUATION	GO TO
A student learning one everyday routine in order	Strip, page 6
A student who does better with one card at a time	Cut-apart cards, page 7
A step the routine's cards do not name	Blank cards, page 8
A photocopier, or a copy that goes home	Ink-saver cards, page 10
The IEP meeting or a family conference	Roll-up and graph, page 15; example, page 16

IF SOMETHING DOES NOT WORK, AND WHERE THIS FILE LIVES

A field will not hold my typing. Open the file in Adobe Acrobat Reader (free) or Preview, not a browser tab. A picture reads as a different word to my student. Use a blank card for that word; the Ask a Question tab on the product page reaches me, and a fix is a free update. Confidentiality: a filled-in log, roll-up or example-style note is a student record — initials only on anything that leaves your hands, first name only on the family page.

PRINTING AND SIZING

Cardstock holds up to daily handling better than plain paper; laminating adds durability for a card that travels on a ring or a lanyard. Every card in this file prints at the same 2-inch size, in this set and the ink-saver one, so a spare from the blank-card page (page 8) always matches.

Use a blank card (page 8) instead: type or write the word your student uses, and draw or glue on a picture that names it for them. The numbered strip (page 6) still shows where the replacement card belongs in the order.

LOG

Completion Log

One row every time the routine runs, real or practiced. It counts one thing per step: whether help was needed.

WHAT ONE ROW COUNTS

One row is one time the routine ran, start to finish — a real drill or a practiced walk-through, marked the same way. Mark every step with a letter, even a step that went fine — a row of all I is useful data too.

TOTALING THE WEEK

Count every I across the table for the week; the roll-up (page 15) turns that count into a percent.

PERCENT OF STEPS COMPLETED INDEPENDENTLY · ONE DOT PER WEEK, THEN DRAW THE LINE

FIGURING THE PERCENT

Count the I marks on the log (page 14) for the week and divide by the total steps run: each time the routine runs is 5 steps. I marks divided by total steps, times 100, rounded to the nearest whole number.

BRINGING THIS PAGE TO A MEETING

A rising line says more steps are being completed without a prompt; the criterion field above is where your team’s own number goes, so every dot is read against the same line. This page counts what is plotted; it does not decide what a flat line means.

EXAMPLE

Filled Example

SAMPLE · INVENTED STUDENT

Every number in the read-out is re-counted straight from the tables above; MC means “see the log for initials” and is not itself a field value.

Talia is invented, and so is every mark on this page. One practiced walk-through on the log, then three weeks on the roll-up, to show how the pages read once real marks are on them.

The log, one walk-through (page 14)

DATE	1 ALARM SOUNDS	2 LINE UP	3 WALK OUTSIDE	4 STAND AND WAIT	5 WALK BACK INSIDE	INITIALS
This week	I	I	P	I	I	MC

The roll-up, three weeks (page 15)

#	WEEK OF	TIMES RUN (DRILLS + PRACTICE)	STEPS INDEPENDENT	PERCENT INDEPENDENT	NOTES
1	9/9	5	16	64%	—
2	9/16	5	19	76%	—
3	9/23	5	22	88%	—

READING THE NUMBERS

This week's row: 4 of 5 steps completed independently, one P (Walk outside needed a prompt). The weeks: 16 of 25 steps (64 percent), then 19 of 25 (76 percent), then 22 of 25 (88 percent) — a line rising week on week, which is what “needing fewer prompts over time” looks like on paper. Every percent is that week's own independent count divided by its total steps run.

A LINE THIS SHEET COULD WRITE

“Talia completed 22 of 25 fire drill routine steps independently the week of 9/23 (88 percent), up from 16 of 25 the week of 9/9.”

HOW THE GRAPH WOULD LOOK

Three dots on the roll-up graph (page 15) at 64, 76 and 88, joined by a line that rises. The one P in the row above shows the log tracks WHICH step needed a prompt, not just how many.

WHAT THIS EXAMPLE IS NOT

One invented child's week and three weeks of totals. It sets no typical rate, predicts nothing about a real student, and the criterion field would hold whatever Talia's team wrote — not a number this file supplies.

THE ONE PROMPT IN THIS EXAMPLE

This week's single P landed on Walk outside. That is a coincidence of this invented walk-through, not a pattern this file claims — a real log might show the prompt on any step, or none at all.

WHAT A CASE MANAGER COULD BRING TO A MEETING

The three roll-up rows above (page 15), read alongside the one filled log row (page 14), are enough to show a trend and one concrete example of what a logged walk-through looks like — without needing to bring the whole stack of daily logs to the table.
