Terms of Use

Please read before you print your first page.

One classroom license

- This file is for one classroom: one teacher and the students in that room.
- Please do not share it, post it online, or sell it.
- Extra licenses for a team or a school are available on the product page.

This is a fillable PDF

- Open it in a PDF reader (Adobe Acrobat Reader, Preview, or your browser), click into a box, type, and Save As.
- The name line, the record boxes, the date boxes and the summary grid are type-in fields. Or print the page and write in it.
- It works offline. No account, no subscription, no internet connection needed after you download it.

Print at 100 percent

Turn off fit to page and shrink to fit, so the marks and the date boxes stay the size they are drawn. Every page prints in color or in black and white; the boxes are drawn with a border and still read on a photocopy.

Student work

A record carries a student's name. Keep it in the data folder, and use a first name only on any page that leaves your hands. The student and every mark on the example page are invented.

Need help?

If a box will not behave or a page will not print the way you expect, use Ask a Question on the product page before leaving a review. Every question is read, and a fix to the file ships as a free update: re-download it any time from My Purchases.

How to Give the Check

Print the list page or type on the screen. Mark each word once, then recheck the NY words.

Give the check, then record it

- Give the student that list's word page (pages 5 to 14). The student writes a name on the My name line and reads the words. The word page shows the first 22 words of the list, numbered the same as on the record page. Mark the rest of the list from the record page, or print it for the student to read.
- Write the student's name on the Name line of the record page. The list number is already at the top of the page.
- Show the words in order, one at a time. Cover the rest of the list with a sheet of paper so the next word does not show.
- Mark M when the student reads the word right. Mark NY when the word is not read right yet.
- Write the date of the check in the Check box, for each word you checked.
- Later, recheck only the NY words. Write the date in the Recheck box and change the mark to M or NY.
- Count the M marks and write the total on the class summary (page 26).

How your team marks a self-correction

Write the rule your team uses here:

_____

What this is not

- Not a norm-referenced test. No grade level, benchmark or percentile is printed or implied.
- Mastered means read right on the check, the way your team defines it. The page sets no cut-off score.
- A finished example is on page 25: one list, with the marks, dates and totals counted from its own boxes.

Class Summary: Fry Sight Words

After each check, write how many of the 100 words on the list are marked M. One row for each student.

How to read it

- Each cell is the M count for that list, out of 100, from the record page at the latest check.
- A blank cell means that list has not been checked yet. Date the row when you update it.

Notes for the team

Write a note for each student, in the words of the record:

Say It, Write It

A phrase bank for the check and the record. Every note says what you can see.

When you give the check

- "Read this word for me."
- "Say the word, then we will go on to the next one."
- "Take your time. Show me the word again when you are ready."
- "Thank you. We will check the rest of the list together."

Notes to write on a record (say what you see)

- "You read ___ of the 100 words today."
- "You read ___ and ___ on your own."
- "The words to practice are ___, ___ and ___."
- "We will check the NY words again on ___."

Words for students to use

- "I look at the word, then I read it."
- "I say the word, then I check it."
- "I read the words I know, and I try the next one."

A second try (say what you did)

- "Let's look at the word again. What do you see?"
- "You fixed ___ when you checked it."
- "The part to practice next is ___."
