Terms of Use

Please read before you print your first page.

One classroom license

- This file is for one classroom: one teacher and the students in that room.
- Please do not share it, post it online, or sell it.
- Extra licenses for a team or a school are available on the product page.

This is a fillable PDF. It is NOT a slide deck or a document file.

- Open it in Adobe Acrobat Reader, Preview, or a web browser. Click a line and type.
- Save a copy under a new name before you close it, so the answers you typed stay in that copy.
- Or print it and write by hand. Every page still reads in black and white.

Print at 100 percent

Turn off fit to page and shrink to fit so every card keeps its size. Use cardstock for the card sheets if you have it. Cut on the solid lines.

Your answers are yours

The answers you type about yourself stay in your own copy. Skip any question you would rather not answer, and use a blank card instead.

What this is

A getting-to-know-you game about a teacher's tastes and routines. The questions are first-person and light. The example teacher on page 5 is invented and says so on the page.

Need help?

If a page will not print the way you expect, use Ask a Question on the product page. We are glad to help.

Print one test page first, then print the rest of the set.

How to Play

For you, not the student. Pick the way that fits your class.

Before you play

- Type or write your answer on each card you plan to use. Put your answers in one place on the key (page 16) if you like.
- Skip any question you would rather not answer. Use a blank card instead.
- Cut the cards on the solid lines and stack them face down.

Whole class

- Draw a card and read the question aloud.
- Each student writes a guess on a guess sheet.
- Read your answer. Students who matched give a thumbs up.

Teams

- Split the class into teams.
- Teams talk quietly and agree on one guess.
- Count a match on the score sheet (page 17).

Draw it

- Use the draw sheet (page 14) for students who are not writing yet.
- Students write the card number and draw a guess.

Partners

- Partners share one guess sheet.
- They take turns reading the card to each other.

What the game is not

- Not a test. There is no grade, and a wrong guess is part of the fun.
- Not a place for private details. Share only what you want your class to know.
- This is a fillable PDF. It is NOT a slide deck or a document file.

Student _____ From _____

Dear family

Our class played a guessing game about me. We took turns guessing my favorites. We played on this day:

Date _____

One thing the class learned about me:

_____

_____

Play it at home

- Ask your child to guess your favorite color, food and animal.
- Then ask your child three questions and guess the answers yourself.
- Take turns. A wrong guess makes a good story.

Three questions to try

- What is your favorite thing to do on the weekend?
- Would you rather have a pet dragon or a pet unicorn?
- What is the silliest thing you ever ate?
